7. LIVING AS A VOLUNTEER

Nuku'alofa is on the north Coast of Tongatapu Island, the most populated region of Tonga. Nuku'alofa Harbour is the island's only deep-water harbour, which determined its selection as the site for the capital. Buses and taxis are readily available and it is also possible to walk around the capital due to its small size and flat landscape. While bicycles are the preferred mode of transport, there are also regular boat and air services available from Nuku'alofa to other islands. The temperature is generally warm, with a brief cool winter.

As the economic hub of the country, Nuku'alofa has a central business district and numerous marketplaces. Services such as banks, mobile reception, and internet are accessible. The island features monuments, tomb, limestone caves and blowholes. The Tongatapu group of islands is home to coral reef and tropical fish, creating opportunities for snorkelling, diving, fishing and whale watching.

Cultural Tips

- The national language are Tongan and English
- Most Tongans are religious and attend church on a weekly basis
- Many shops and services will not be available on Sundays
- Casual, modest clothing is usually acceptable in the workplace. Men may also like to consider wearing traditional tupenu and ta'ovala. For formal occasions, women may consider wearing a traditional kiekie
